

Project Management

Available at: Cornwall | Kingston

Overview

Organizations of all sizes depend upon the successful completion of projects to survive and remain competitive. Successful Project management controls every aspect of the project from initial concept through design, actual task completion and implementation. Resource allocation, time and cost control are essential elements to be managed to prevent overruns.

This one-year Ontario College Graduate Certificate Program prepares graduates for this rewarding managerial career in the field of Project Management. Project Management is a highly sought discipline that involves the application of knowledge, skills and techniques to execute projects effectively and efficiently. Project managers are in high demand across all industries.

Students will develop a critical understanding of the ten knowledge areas according to "A Guide to the Project Management Body of Knowledge" (PMBOK® Guide). Students will acquire the creative, practical and advanced expertise that contribute to the effective management of the critical elements required to ensure overall project success.

Highlights

Career opportunities in the fields of computer and information systems, construction and design, property administration, finance and auditing, and health and research, among others, offer graduates a wide range of opportunities in project management roles.

Testimonials

It is our immense pleasure to study here at St. Lawrence College, Kingston and the Project Management program makes it icing on the cake. I believe that we are the luckiest people who got a wonderful opportunity to learn something brand new at the college. When it comes to the teachers, I do not have appropriate words to praise them but I believe the words of John Steinbeck does:

"I have come to believe that a great teacher is a great artist and that there are as few as there are any other great artists. It might even be the greatest of the arts since the medium is the human mind and spirit."

I would highly recommend to you, to be a part of St. Lawrence College, which is no less than a second home for all international students.
